Dearest Wife

While it is raining, I thought I would drop you a few lines, to tell you how much I really love you. Darling I am being strong for you. Because I know that you really love me. And I am trying to do everything, to please you. For you know, that I don't want to hurt you in any way. For when I took you to be my wife, I said, to death do we part, and that is the way I still feel about you. For I don't think, I could find another you, if I search the world over. I do ~~appre~~ appreciate, the thing you do, for me. And when this war is over. I will try to show you what I mean, on paper. I know it is hard, for both of us darling, but we will have to be brave. Honey I will never lose faith in you, no matter where I am you hold the key to my heart. I long to hold you in my arms and tell you of my love for you. Darling it has been quite a long time since I told you that you were my apple dumple sugar pie of mine.

From your husband
Charles
